Perspectives from an institutional repository manager

Wrangling Bits and Herding Cats
Donor Relations in the Digital Age

Midwest Archives Conference, May 9, 2015

Harrison W. Inefuku
Iowa State University
Institutional Repositories as a service

The Iowa State University Digital Repository is a set of services provided to faculty, students, and staff to increase the visibility and impact of their research and university publications. This is done through supporting the self-archiving of published and unpublished scholarship, the creation and maintenance of researcher profiles, and providing a publishing platform for conference proceedings.

Jimbethmag, “Librarian explains the Rhode Island Digest to the Firm’s Attorneys.” Used under a CC BY-NC-ND 2.0 license.
Services

• Self-archiving and publishing
• Broad dissemination
• Copyright clearance
• Author profiles

Benefits

• Increased visibility and impact of research
• Usage statistics
• No cost, little work for faculty
Building Relationships

Marc Smith, “20120212-NodeXL-Twitter-socbiz network graph,” Used under a CC BY 2.0 license.
What can institutional repositories do for archives?

Thank you!

Harrison W. Inefuku
Digital Repository Coordinator
Iowa State University
hinefuku@iastate.edu @hnltraveler http://works.bepress.com/hinefuku/