Thank you for your email

The terms of the journal's copyright transfer agreement (CTA) allow authors to self-archive submitted (pre-print) and accepted (peer-reviewed) versions of articles on their own personal website, in a company/institutional repository or archive, and in approved not-for-profit subject-based repositories. Self-archiving of the accepted version is subject to an embargo.

The accepted (peer-reviewed) version may be self-archived after an embargo period of 12 months for scientific, technical, and medical (STM) journals, and 24 months for social science and humanities (SSH) journals following publication of the final article.

You can read more about our policies, including details on our embargo periods, at these links:

<http://olabout.wiley.com/WileyCDA/Section/id-828039.html>

<https://authorservices.wiley.com/author-resources/Journal-Authors/licensing-and-open-access/open-access/author-compliance-tool.html>

Articles may be deposited into repositories on acceptance, but access to the article is subject to the embargo period.

The version posted must include the following notice on the first page:

"This is the peer reviewed version of the following article: [FULL CITE], which has been published in final form at [Link to final article using the DOI]. This article may be used for non-commercial purposes in accordance with Wiley Terms and Conditions for Self-Archiving."

The version posted may not be updated or replaced with the final published version (the Version of Record). If you have any further queries then please contact us.

Subject: Permissions Request

 This is an external email.

Dear Permissions Specialist:

I work for the Iowa State University Library, and I have been working with Dr. Linda Hagedorn to get their scholarship deposited in our institutional repository, Iowa State University Digital Repository. Dr. Hagedorn is a contributing author to the below publication, and I am writing for permission to deposit portions of their work in our repository.

Ludvik, B. M. & Hagedorn, L.S. (Fall,2022). Reactions on Netflix's The Chair. The Department Chair, 33, 2, p 18-19.

Iowa State University Digital Repository is a non-commercial institutional repository that provides access to the scholarship of Iowa State University's faculty, students and staff. This scholarship is made available for personal, educational and research use. All publications deposited in the repository are described with complete bibliographic information for the original publication and includes an explicit statement identifying the date and owner of copyright.

Please let me know if we have permission to deposit their publications in our repository. I look forward to hearing from you.

Cheers,

Lorrie Smith
