

ISU Surplus Treasures

illustration BRANDON ALVARADO

photo VALERIE LEMASTER

designer TERYN HAMMES

ISU Surplus's goal is to redistribute what the university can't use anymore to other state-funded organizations. Once all of those avenues have been exhausted, the leftover materials are made available for sale to the general public. The building is open on Wednesdays from 12-3 pm.

These items were all purchased from the ISU surplus warehouse by members of our staff. Each item was purchased for less than $10.