

THIS SEMESTER

was a learning experience for all involved with this issue of Revival. We, as a group, worked through a lot of issues during the production process but are happy to have completed this issue for all of you to read. This semester especially, we fully realized what it takes to put together an on-campus publication and it is not an easy feat. So, we would like to commend all of the on-campus publications because they work just as hard as we do to deliver publications to students each semester.

Support is a big word, especially with our magazine, so we would like to take a moment to thank those of you who have helped us get to the place we are currently. We simply could not have done it without you. We hope to continue to grow as a magazine and hope you all hang around to see what we, as a staff, have come up with each semester. So here's to another semester, raise your glass—Cheers.
