

Alumni News

Class of 1941

Arthur M. Orum retired from farm practice in 1978. Dr. Orum was the third editor of the Veterinary Student while in vet school. He has been the president of the Midwest Small Animal Association and the Miss. VMA. He is a life member of the Illinois State VMA and the AVMA. His crowning non-professional achievement was to be one of the founding fathers of a human hospital, Memorial Hospital, which opened its doors in 1950, and in 1970 the Hancock County Nursing Home. He is an elder of the Presbyterian Church. Dr. Orum and his wife, Margaret (ISU '41) have three children; Judy Gregory (ISU), a medical technologist; Stephan (ISU), vice president and chief financial officer for Land's End in Wisconsin; and Peggy Gunnison (Drake), a registered nurse.

Class of 1971

Stanley D. Allen is at Utah State University where he teaches, does research, and advises pre/veterinary students. He did biomedical research from 1971-1976 at the University of Utah. He taught and did clinical work (mostly dairy) at Brigham Young University from 1976 to 1979. He has been at USU since 1979, and is a full professor with tenure. His research mostly involves antimycotic agents in rodents. Dr. Allen and his wife Karen have four children: Merilee, a sophomore in Nutrition and Food Science at USU; Scott, a high school senior; Julie, a high school junior; and Michael, who is in 8th grade.

Paul J. Armbricht is active in a large animal and mixed practice in Lake City, Iowa. His associates there include Arthur H. Mally (ISU '61), Darrell Boettcher (ISU '69), Vince Collison (ISU '88), and Jane Lau-Collison (ISU '88). Dr. Armbricht is an active member of the IVMA, the AASP, and the AVMA. He is currently chair of the IVMA Swine Committee. He was chosen as a Honorary Master Pork Producer in 1988. He was the 1989 IVMA Veterinarian of the Year, and the 1990 AASP Practitioner of the Year. He and his wife Marlene Pedersen (ISU '68, '70) have five children: Eric, 18, Todd, 16, Amy, 14, Alyssa, 12, and Aaron, 6.

Joseph J. Bryan has operated a solo small animal practice for the past fourteen years in Gloversville, NY, and worked in two practices prior to that. He was the secretary/treasurer for the Capital District VMS for three years, and has been the president of the Capital District VMS. He and his wife Mary Lou Bryan have two sons; Bill, 11, and Tony, 14.

Doug Carlson is active in a small animal practice in Wheaton, IL, with Cynthia Fagen (ISU '89) and Mark Biehl (Univ. of Ill '85). He is a member of the AVMA, the AAHA, and the Illinois VMA. He is director and continuing education chairman of the Chicago VMA. He is a Jaycee vice-president and was Jaycee of the Year. He was also a member of the Boston marathon team for the Heifer Project. Dr. Carlson and his wife Patricia have three children; Wade, a junior in pre-med at the U of Illinois; Jody, a senior in high school; and Amy, a high school freshman.

Thomas R. Christie is active in a two-man small animal practice in Brookfield, Wisconsin with Dr. E.M. Braun (ISU '51). He did an internship and small animal residency at the Animal Medical Center in New York City from 1971-1973. From 1973 to 1974 he was an assistant professor of small animal surgery at the Univ. of Illinois. In 1975 he was admitted to the American College of Veterinary Surgeons. He was the president of the Milwaukee VMA from '78- '79. Dr. Christie and his wife Sharon have a daughter, Sandy, 15, and twin sons, Curt and Chris, 13.

Michael Davis is active in a mixed, primarily large animal practice in Carroll, IA. His associates there include Wm. Blohm (ISU '59), Craig Rowles (ISU '82), Duane Streit (ISU '80), Mitch Hiscocks (ISU '89), and John Hicks (ISU '90). Dr. Davis is a member of the AVMA, the IVMA, and the AASP. He is also a member of the local school board, the chamber of the commerce board, and the county board of health. He is the charter club president of the Lions Club and is active in the United Methodist Church. Dr. Davis and his wife Nancy (Drake '69) have two daughters, Monica, 18 and Megan, 12.

Kelley Donham is active as a professor and researcher in agricultural medicine at the University of Iowa. He is the Associate Director of the Institute of Agricultural Medicine. He has won the Faculty Scholars Award, 1984-1987. Dr. Donham has two sons, Andrew, 12, and Joel, 7.

Merle K. Doty is active in a mixed practice in Grinnell, IA. His associates include Darwin Kinne (ISU '68), Dan Bergerud (ISU '81), Tim Klein (ISU '89), and Al Frischmeyer (ISU '81). He is a member of the AVMA, the IVMA and the AASP. He was the president of the Grinnell Tigers Booster Club in 1989, and is an elder in the Grinnell Christian Church. Dr. Doty and his wife, Gloria (ISU '68) have five children: Matt, a senior at ISU, Mark, a sophomore at ISU. Mike, 18. Susan, 16, and Kristie, 12. They were voted the 1981 Grinnell Family of the Year.

Robert Dressler and Gale Dressler are both actively practicing. Robert is the equine technical services director for Pfizer. Gale operates a small animal hospital in San Antonio, TX. The Dresslers have two daughters: Carly, a student at S.W. Texas University, and Kaeli, a student at Angelo State University. They have one grandson, Joshua.

Wayne R. Freese is active in a mixed animal practice in Minnesota. He is also the vice-president of Veterinary and Diagnostic services at the Oxford Veterinary Laboratory. He is the president of the Interstate VMA and was president of the AASP in 1987. Dr. Freese and his wife Karen have two sons, Daniel and Marc.

Jerry F. Hardisty is currently the director of North Carolina Branch of Experimental Pathology Laboratories, Inc., with a staff of ten veterinary pathologists and 35 support personnel. He was a captain in the U.S. Army at Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland from 1971-1976. He joined EPL in 1976 as a staff member in Virginia and was appointed Director of the North Carolina branch in 1978. He is a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Pathologists, and an adjunct professor in the Pathology Dept. at the NCSU College of Veterinary Medicine. His wife Susan (ISU '70) is a respiratory therapist and pediatric coordinator at NCU. They have two daughters, Megan, 18, a freshman at the Univ. of NC, and Emily, 13.

Douglas W. Hauser is active in a small animal practice in Arizona with Steven McAllister (CSU '82). He is a member of the AVMA, the AAHA, the Arizona VMA, the Central Arizona VMA, and the Arizona Academy of Veterinary Practice. Dr. Hauser and his wife Sherry have a son, Jason, 18.

Michael Holm is active as a partner in a mixed practice in Owatonna, MN. His partner is Kenneth R. Torrey (ISU '68). Dr. Holm interned at the U of M in 1971-1972. He is an advisor to the local Agricultural Council and is a member of the AVMA and the MVMA. He has also held various offices in the local golf association. He and his wife Patricia (ISU '70) have a son, Christian, 17, and a daughter, Courtney, 15.

Tom Johnson is sole proprietor of a small animal practice in Spencer, IA. He spent a year in Seattle, WA in a small animal practice and was an intern and instructor at Washington State Univ. for two years. He was also a professor at Colorado State University for two years. For another two years he practiced in Fort Collins, CO, and has been at his current practice for 13 years. Dr. Johnson and his wife Debra (ISU '69) have four children: Amanda, 20, Ira, 16, Ethan, 12, and Kathryn, 9.

Ralph Lanz is active in a mixed practice (dairy and small animal) in Ohio, with D. R. Duncan (OSU '83) and Donna Stafford (OSU '80). He is a member of the AVMA, the OVMA, the Bovine Practitioner Association, the Theriogenology Society and the National Mastitis Council. He is also a Christian Veterinary Mission Shuttle vet volunteer, and a Heifer Project volunteer. Dr. Lanz and his wife Diane have three children: Jeff, 24, is a vet student at OSU; Brett, 20, is majoring in education at OSU; and Denise is a high school senior.

Steven L. Leary is the director of the Animal Resources Program at the Univ. of Alabama at Birmingham. He is also a professor of Comparative Medicine. He is an ACLAM Diplomate, a member of the AAALAC council, NABR Board of Directors, and president of southeastern AALAS. Dr. Leary and his wife Sherry have four sons: David, 20, John, 17, Ben, 15, and Mike, 13.

Howard L. Lindaman is active in a mixed, mainly cow-calf, practice in Albia, IA. His associates include E. Dean Stocker (ISU '60), Greg Mobley (ISU '80), and Matt Garrer (KSU '91). Dr. Lindaman has served on a program committee for the IVMA, and is a 4-H leader and committee member. He is also a financial secretary and teacher for the Methodist Church. He and his wife Cynthia (ISU '73), a teacher, have two children: Brent, 16, and Laura, 13.

Roger Mahr is active in a small animal practice, which he founded and owns, in Geneva, Illinois. His associate there is Steve Servantez (ISU '89). He is a member and was president of the Chicago VMA, and is a member of the Illinois VMA Board of Directors. He is also a member of the Illinois Academy of Veterinary Medicine, and the Illinois Veterinary Licensing and Disciplinary Board. Dr. Mahr belongs to AAHA and the AVMA and serves on the AVMA Veterinary Technician Testing Committee. He has been the president of the Humane Society of North Central Illinois, and the Geneva Lions Club. He is also a member of the Delta Society and the Administrative Board of the United Methodist Church of Geneva, and is chairman for the Facilities Advisory Commission for the St. Charles Community School District. Dr. Mahr and his wife Marilyn have two children, Deanna, 12, and David, 7.

Rodney A. Miller is a research pathologist for Battelle, Pacific Northwest Labs, Richland Washington. Prior to that he practiced small animal medicine in Seattle area and then went back to school for a PhD. in Veterinary Pathology. Dr. Miller is active in the local swimming association, musical club and wood carving. He and his wife Marjorie (ISU '69) have 2 children: Christine, 16, and Alisa, 13.

Mark M. Ott is active in an equine medicine and surgery practice in Beaumont, CA. In 1971-1972 he interned in equine ambulatory medicine at Davis. He is a member of the AVMA and CVMA, and coaches Senior Little League and Winter League baseball. Dr. Ott and his wife Pamela Ann have two children, Zachari, 19, and Justin, 15.

Don Otto is a field veterinarian for USDA-APHIS-VS, and is located in Knoxville, IA. In 1971-1972 he practiced in Great Falls, Montana. He then practiced in Maxwell, IA until 1981, and his associates there included Jon Witt (ISU '66), Jack Robinson (ISU '68), John Terry (ISU '68), and Don Dutlen (ISU '72). Dr. Otto and his wife Donna (ISU '69) have two children, Tracy, 17, and Stacy, 16.

Richard L. Runyon is active in a mixed practice in Chariton, IA, with Mike R. Miller (ISU '74). Dr. Runyon and his wife Phylis have a son, Bret, 11, and a daughter, Desirae, 11.

Darwin Schipper is active in a large animal practice in Preston, IA with O.G. Feuerbach (ISU '45). He is a member of the Eastern Iowa VMA and Jackson County VMA, the AABP, AASP, IVMA and AVMA. He is active in church and civic groups, the school board, and the Economic Development Association. Dr. Schipper and his wife Jacque (ISU '70), a teacher, have three children: Brad, 21, a junior at UNI; Darren, 18, and Laura, 11.

Thomas A. Silberhorn is active in a small animal practice in Massachusetts, with Nancy Morris (Tufts '90). He has been president of the southeastern Mass. VMA and is presently chairman of the Mass. VMA Counseling Committee. He is active in the Immanuel Lutheran Church on the church council and as a Sunday school teacher. Dr. Silberhorn and his wife Nichole have three children: Gretchen, 19, Nathan, 17, and Evan, 10, and they are expecting another.

Robert R. Spencer is active in a small animal practice in LaCrosse, Wisconsin, with Laura Johnson (CSU '83), and M. Banner (U of Minn. '78). He is a member of the AVMA, the AAHA, and the Wisconsin VMA. He has also been a member of the Grievance Committee, the Small Animal Practice Committee, the Audit Committee, and the State Convention Committee. Dr. Spencer has been the president of the local Humane Society and has been a church board member at the First Congregational Church. He and his wife Robyn have two sons, Adam, 10 and Peter, 2.

Robert G. Stout is active in a mixed practice in Alliance, Nebraska with three associates. He is a member of the AVMA and serves on the NVMA board of directors. He is active in the Jaycees, the Chamber of Commerce, and is a Trustee of Box Butte General Hospital. He and his wife Ginny have two sons: Peter, 7, and Ethan, 5.

R. T. Strother is active in a mixed, mostly large animal practice in Union, Iowa with R. L. Daniels (ISU '83). He is a member of the AVMA, the IVMA, the AASP, the South Hardin Kiwanis Club, and the South Hardin Business Association. He has also been president of the U-W school board. Dr. Strother is married to Patrice Kerwin Strother (UNI '81), a middle school English teacher and librarian, and has four children: Kathryn, 4, Robert, 1, Troy, an ISU business student, and Angela, who attends DMACC.

James K. West is active as a bovine embryo transfer specialist at Westwood Embryo Services. He is active in the AETA and the IETS, and has lectured on embryo transfer in the U.S. and in Europe. He has also trained veterinarians from Eastern and Western Europe, India, South America and Japan. Dr. West served in the U.S. Army from 1971-1973. He then completed a residency in theriogenology at ISU and was a member of the ISU staff until 1975. He then had a practice in Waverly, Iowa until 1980, and he started working at Westwood Embryo in 1979. Dr. West and his wife Mary (ISU '72) have two daughters: Heather, an ISU sophomore, and Angela, a sophomore in high school.

Robert Youngquist is a professor of veterinary medicine and surgery at the University of Missouri in Columbia. He is a Diplomate of the American College of Theriogenology and has been its president. He won a Norden Award for Distinguished Teaching in both 1980 and 1990. He is also a 4-H community leader and 4-H woodworking project leader. Dr. Youngquist and his wife Bonnie have two children: Jason, 13, and Kara, 11.

Class of 1981

Brett Raymond Andrews is in a mixed animal (predominantly large) practice in Burwell, NE. His wife, Patricia, is a customer service representative at a bank. He has 2 children: Heather, 11, and Keela, 8. Dr. Andrews is a member of the AVMA and active in church and 4-H activities. He has also practiced in other locations in Nebraska as well as in South Dakota and Montana. Currently, Dr. Andrews practices with Dr. Essig, Dr. DeGross, Dr. Snell and Dr. Shermer.

Terry Barker is a small animal practitioner in Green Bay Wisconsin. He is married to Sally and they have a 6 year old son Daniel. Dr. Barker is a member of AVMA, AAHA, Wisconsin AVMA, Optimists, Rutted Grouse Society and Pheasants Forever. He is in practice with Doctors Roningen (ISU '67), Nyren (ISU '72) and Hogenson (WI '89).

Judith Bechtum is an active equine solo practitioner in Webster, MN.

Daniel Bergerud is in Grinnell, IA with his wife Sandy, son Blake and daughter Kirstin. They are expecting a baby in late October. He is in a mixed animal practice with 4 fellow ISU graduates: Doctors Doty, Kinne, Frischmeyer, Alden and Klein. Dr. Bergerud is a member of the AVMA, IVMA, IVMA Exec. Board. and AABP.

David C. Bomgaars is a large animal practitioner in Sioux City, IA. He and his wife, Anita, have 3 kids: Megan, 11, Chris, 8, and Curtis, 4. Dr. Bomgaars is the past president of NW IA Vet Med Assoc. Currently he is a member of IVMA, AABP, AASP. He is active locally as a Deacon of First Reformed Church and a member of the Golf Course Development Committee.

Carter Braaflat is a practitioner in a 5 person mixed animal practice in Minot, ND. He and his wife, Cindy, have 3 kids: Tyler, 10, Annie, 9, and Emily, 5. Dr. Braaflat is member of NDAVMA. Previously he worked at a clinic in Bismarck, ND.

David Brown is a large animal practitioner in a solo practice in Viroqua, WI. He and his wife Jodie have an 8 year old son, Stephen. Dr. Brown spent 2 years at Virginia-Maryland Regional College of Vet Med as a clinical instructor in the Dept of Large Animal Clinical Sciences.

Steven L. Carlson is active in a mixed/large animal practice in Elgin, Iowa, with Linda Kahher (ISU '84) and Kevin Taylor (ISU '91). He has been practicing there since 1982. Dr. Carlson resides in Elgin with his wife Leanne.

Debra J. Conant is active in a small animal practice in California with Nino Garrolini. She has worked at a two-vet practice in Lebanon, Oregon, and worked a rotation in Santa Barbara, California, between four practices. She has been at her current position for one and a half years. Dr. Conant was married this past August 10th to Allan Charette.

Mary Ellenberger (Mouw) is currently assistant director for the laboratory animal medicine program at Tufts University and the New England Medical Center in Boston. She was in a training program in lab animal medicine at MIT from 1983-1986 and was board certified by ACLAM in 1988. Her husband, Tom (ISU '83) is a research scientist at Harvard University.

Marj Eickholt-Murphy is active in a small animal practice in Connecticut, where she has been an associate veterinarian since graduation. She has been past president, vice-president, and treasurer of the Fairfield County VMA. Her husband Paul is employed with IBM in Fishkill, NY, and they have three children: Melanie, 7, Paul E., 4, and Bethany, 2.

Kim D. Floerchinger is active in a predominantly small animal practice in Illinois. She is also president of Mardex Enterprises, a marketing consulting firm, and is a Dale Carnegie Courses Graduate assistant. She is a member of the AVMA, IVMA, American Legion Auxiliary, and is a life member of the ISU Alumni Association. Her biography has been included in Who's Who in Veterinary Sciences and Medicine, and in Who's Who Among Rising Young Americans.

Jeanne Friedman is active in her own small animal and exotics practice in California. She is a member of the SCVMA, AVMA, and the AAAP. She has also served for three years on the SCVMA Grievance Committee. Dr. Friedman and her husband, Carl Pontius, have a two year old son, Cody James.

Marthina L. Greer owns a small animal practice in Lomira, WI. She is a member of the WVMA and the AVMA, and is director of the Fox Valley division of Northeast WVMA. She is also the vice president of the Lomira Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the ad-hoc committee of Wisconsin State Central Animal Health Lab. Dr. Greer is married to Dr. Daniel W. Griffiths (ISU '81).

Daniel W. Griffiths is active in a 100% dairy practice in Brownsville, Wisconsin with Robert R. Baker (ISU '77) and Arlen Schultz (UW '91). He is a member of the AVMA, WVMA, AABP, Northeast WVMA, Lomira Lions Club, and is a Village of Lomira trustee. Marthina Greer and Daniel Griffiths have a daughter, Katy, 6 and a son, Karl, 5.

Rhonda Hammes Wehr is active in a mixed animal practice in Sigourney, IA. Dr. Hammes Wehr is a member of the AVMA, IVMA, AASP, AASRP, Sigourney Area Economic Development and Main Street Sigourney Chamber of Commerce. She and her husband Larry have two children: Neil, 5, and Lisa, 2.

James A. Hardekopf is active in a small animal practice in Wisconsin. He is a member of the Waukesha Veterinary Assoc., the Wisconsin Medical Assoc., the AVMA, the Lions Club, and the Calvary Evangelical Free Church. His wife Fay is a medical technologist, and they have a daughter, Rachel Nicole, 2.

Patricia Hoiem-Dalen is currently teaching at Richland community College in Decatur, IL. She practiced in Minnesota for 4 years as a small animal practitioner then returned to ISU and received her master's degree in Veterinary Microbiology in 1989. She was an adjunct instructor in the Dept. of Microbiology until 1990. She received a research Excellence Award from ISU for her master's research in bovine keratoconjunctivitis. She has also received the Donald Kohn Memorial Award for her research. She is a member of Phi Zeta, Phi Kappa Phi, Gamma Sigma Delta, and the AVMA. Dr. Hoiem-Dalen and her husband Duane Dalen have a son, Eric, born in May of '90.

Kevin T. Horton is active in a 50/50 mixed practice in Corvallis, Montana. He is currently the sole practitioner. Dr. Horton is very active in the community and the Corvallis Community Church. He and his wife Corinne have three sons: Christopher, 12, Andrew, 9, and Aaron, 8.

Philip C. Johnson is active in a mixed practice (65% large/35% small) in Wisconsin, with Dean Rasmussen (U of Wis. '89) and James Tomasek (OH '54). He is a member of the AVMA, the WVMA, the Northeast WVMA, the AABP, the National Mastitis Council, and the Knights of Columbus. Dr. Johnson and his wife Molly have four children: Emily, 13, Paul, 10, Mark, 7, and Beth, 4.

Daniel A. Lange is active in a small animal practice in St. Charles, Missouri, with three associates. He is a member of the AVMA, the MVMA, the St. Louis Emergency Clinic Board, and is also active in Big Brothers/Big Sisters. He and his wife Mary Ann have been married since 1984.

Deanne McCabe is active in a small animal practice in Minnesota with Jodi Arndt(ISU '80). She is a member of the AVMA, the Metropolitan Animal Hospital Association, the AAHA, and the public health committee for the Minnesota VMA. She also serves on the advisory board for the city of Bloomington. Dr. McCabe and her husband Jeff have two children: Jessica, 7, and Jason, 4.

Carolyn A. McCutcheon owns Park Avenue Animal Hospital, a small animal practice, in Memphis, TN. She is a member of the Tennessee VMA and the Memphis/Shelby County VMA. She is also an Honorary Board member of the Memphis Humane Society. She is married to J. Bryan Carter and has two stepsons, Ken, 20, and John, 17.

Dan McDermott is active in a mixed, mostly large animal practice in Breda, IA with Richard Schwabe(ISU '66). He is a member of the Breda City Council and the Kuemper School Board, and has also been the president of the grade school board. He is a Little League president and coach. Dr. McDermott and his wife Muriel have two sons: Chad, 19, an ISU sophomore, and Travis, 16.

Dave Mills is the Director of Veterinary Services for a large, integrated turkey producer in Barron, WI. He is a member of the AVMA, the AAAP, the Wisconsin VMA and the Midwestern Assoc. of Avian Veterinarians. Dr. Mills and his wife Lynne have five children: Megan, 10, Melissa, 7, Abby, 5, Anna, 4, and Joseph, 1.

Mark Quade is active in a small animal practice. He and his wife Kathy are living in Texas.

Roy H. Peters is active in a large animal practice in Canistota, SD with Monte Fuhrman(ISU '85), Michelle Hansen(ISU '90) and Brad Peterson(KSU '91). Dr. Peters and his wife Karen have two children: Nathan, 5, and Lindsey, 3.

David J. Rasmussen is active in a mixed practice in Bloomfield, IA. Associates in the practice include his father, Russel Rasmussen(ISU '42), and Nancy Ellis(ISU '91). Dr. Rasmussen serves on the State Executive Board and the sheep and goat committee. He and his wife Deborah have two children: Ryan, 6, and Nicole, 4.

Kent Rohrig is active in a small animal practice in Omaha, NE with Tom Calvert(ISU '88), Susan and Andrew Kleiwer(KSU '89), Tom Schmarr(KSU '89) and Kelly Gochenour(ISU '89). Dr. Rohrig is active in the local community. He and his wife Darlene have a three year old daughter, Caitlyn Dawn.

Dennis Riordan is active in small animal and zoo practice in Des Moines, IA. His associates are Charles Riordan(ISU '78), and Frank Dunham (ISU '84). Dr. Riordan has served as the president of the Greater Des Moines VMA for the last three years.

Dennis Rossiter is active in a mixed practice in St. Peter, MN. His associates include Gene Kind(MN), Ken Douglas(MI), and Bruce Thomsen(MO). Dr. Rossiter is active in local and state VMA's, as well as Jaycees, Rotary Club and church activities. He and his wife Debra have one son, Craig, one and a half years old.

Jay Tappe is a diagnostic pathologist at PAL-PATH, Inc. in Dallas, TX. Dr. Tappe did a residency in Pathology at the Animal Medical Center in New York, received his Diplomate, ACVP in 1985, and was the Chief Pathologist at the Bronx Zoo from 1984-1986. Dr. Tappe received his PhD in Pathology from the ISU Dept. of Pathology in 1991. He and his wife Nancy reside in Dallas.

Craig D. Thatcher is active in university clinical practice at the Maryland Regional College of Veterinary Medicine. He has also been an Assoc. Professor and Section Chief of Production Management Medicine since 1983. Prior to that Dr. Thatcher worked in a mixed animal practice for two years. He has three children: Stacie, 11, Kate, 8, and Kyle, 4.

Matt Vickers is the sole practitioner at a mainly large animal practice in Arnold, NE. Dr. Vickers is a member of the NVMA, AVMA and Society of Theriogenology. He and his wife have three children: Lisa, 19, Rudy, 15, and Valerie, 11.

James P. Wahl is active in an exclusively small animal practice in Tinley Park, IL. Dr. Wahl is a member of the AVMA, Illinois VMA, Chicago VMA and AAHA. He and his wife Donna Ellis have two children, Andrew, 6, and Peter, 4.

Tim Weisensel is active in a primarily dairy, mixed animal practice in Berlin, WI, with 5 associates, of which he is the youngest. Dr. Weisensel is still enjoying gardening and harvested blueberries for the first time this year. He and his wife Kris have four wonderful children: Sarah, 13, Matt, 12, Ben, 9, and Katie, 5.

Delwin D. Wilmot has been the Deputy State Veterinarian for Nebraska since 1988. Prior to that Dr. Wilmot worked in a cow/calf practice, did an internship in equine medicine and surgery, worked in an equine practice, and was the official vet at FonnerPark Racetrack. He and his wife Pam have three children: Michael, 9, Jason, 7, and Makayla, 5.

FOR-MOST LIVESTOCK EQUIPMENT

FOR-MOST INC.
Box 322
Hawarden, Iowa 51023
Phone: (712)552-1438

Headgates, Squeeze Chutes, Tip-Chute,
Crowding Tub and Slanted Alley Way,
Hog Catcher, Corral Panels.