

Staff Bios

Nonfiction Board Editor :

Hayley Hartman is majoring in English and History. She enjoys a good book, prefers dogs to people, and consumes ridiculous amounts of coffee at alarming rates.

Poetry Board Editor :

Natalja Handy is a senior in English with minors in Linguistics and Teaching English as a Second Language. She intends to graduate in the Spring of 2019 and hopes to spend some time teaching English as a Foreign Language in Japan. She has immensely enjoyed her participation with Sketch over the past few years!

Fiction Board Editor :

Abby Stauffer is a senior double majoring in English and Technical Communication and minoring in Classical Studies. After she graduates in May, she plans on attending a summer publishing institute to further immerse herself in the world of book publishing. Her dream is to become a literary editor. In her free time, she enjoys watching any and all of the Star Wars films, reading Stephen King, and bonding with her pet tarantula, Cleo.

Visual Arts Editor / Designer :

Sarah Jean Walsh is a senior in Graphic Design. After she graduates she plans to move to big city with great pizza. She spends her free time either taking naps, running around Target, or watching her latest tv show obsession. Oh and she also created the cover art which is pretty neat.

President / Editor-in-Chief :

Jocelyn Simms is a senior majoring in English with minors in Event Management and Hospitality Management. If she had it her way, she'd be on the next plane to "anywhere but here." When she is not busy with school work or extracurriculars, you can find her cuddling with her dog, Tucker, binge-watching something on Netflix, or planning her next adventure.