

EDITORS' NOTE

In these pages, you'll find funereal luggage, ponderings from a toilet seat, wrong numbers, a former president, and even a sentient piece of bread. Just some of the elements that go into the finest literarily artistic and artistically literary work Iowa State students have to offer.

Submissions poured in this semester, and we loved every second of it. Thank you for your interest in Sketch, as reader or submitter. Keep reading. Not only our rag, but everything you can. It means the world to us.

Bailey Lewis
Undergraduate Editor