

Alumnae Echoes . . .

. . . news bits from the front lines

Edited by Ruth May Green and Harriett Everets

JOSEPHINE MISHLER, '33, is assistant food supervisor in the cooperative dormitories working with Mrs. Gribskov.

JOSEPHINE MISHLER

Lita (Hindman) Luebbers, M.S. '28, is living in Albion, Mich. She was formerly head of home economics at Albion College before her marriage to R. E. Luebbers in 1932.

Kathryn Waldron, M.S. '31, is lighting specialist for the Superior Power Company, with headquarters at Ashland, Wis.

Frances Pope, '34, is conducting the nursery school at Fayetteville, Ark.

Gertrude E. Schmidt, '33, is nutritionist with the Illinois relief association, Chicago.

Dorothy (Clements) Ohrenschall, '31, is living in Wichita, Kansas. Mrs. Ohrenschall has been in Alaska for the last three years as dietitian in the St. Mark's Mission at Nenana.

Thelma Young, '34, has been teaching in the adult school at Redlands, Calif., under S.E.R.A. March 1, she goes to Salt Lake City to begin her dietitian internship in the Latter Day Saints' Hospital.

Mabel Phipps, '19, began work February 1 as home demonstration agent in Madison and Adair Counties.

CORRECTION

The picture of Jessie Anderson in the February issue of the Homemaker was not she, but Marion Carlton, a bacteriology major.

Alberta Owens, '34, and Freda Emery, '32, are members of the dormitory foods staff at Grinnell College.

Mae Anderson, '30, who has been home demonstration agent at Waterloo since her graduation, is now one of the nutrition specialists on the extension staff of the college.

Ardath Anrau, '34, Dorothy Sponheim, '33, Helen Jean Duncan, '32, Ella McMasters, '32, have entered the training course for dietitians for the Ford Hopkins Drug Company. This company is placing home economics-trained women in charge of all of its food service.

DOROTHY SPONHEIM

HELEN JEAN DUNCAN

Martha Jane Moffitt, '28, teaches at the Asheville Normal College and has charge of the college cafeteria.

Margaret Thompson, '25, M. S. '29, is also living in Asheville, N. C.

Helen Walsh, '28, is doing administrative work with the FERA in Los Angeles, Calif. Until last September she was employed with the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Pauline Peacock is director of home economics with the Kelvinator Sales Corporation of Detroit, Mich., and is in charge of Kelvin Kitchen, the laboratory of food preservation and refrigeration recipes.

Home Demonstration Agents

by Elizabeth Foster

A NUMBER of changes have been made in home demonstration agent positions at the beginning of this year. Sioux and O'Brien counties began home demonstration work on a full-time basis Jan. 1. Iris McCumber, an Iowa State graduate began her work in Sioux county. On January 16 Elizabeth Colby became a full-time demonstration agent in O'Brien county.

Aileen Wilson who served Sioux and O'Brien counties succeeded Gladys Adams as agent in Lynn county beginning Jan. 1. At the present time Miss Adams is taking advanced work here at Iowa State.

Mae Anderson, Iowa State graduate, on Jan. 15 discontinued her services as Black Hawk county agent to take a position on the state staff as nutrition specialist. To succeed Miss Anderson, Miss Helene Dilger, former Madison and Adair counties home demonstration agent, commenced Feb. 1 in Black Hawk county. Miss Habel Phipps, Iowa State graduate also, is taking Miss Hilger's place.

In her new capacity as nutrition specialist on the state staff, Miss Mae Anderson, Iowa State graduate, is working with the Can-a-Cow campaign. The campaign is being conducted with the co-operation of the Animal Husbandry Department and home economics home demonstration division. In the thirty-one counties of the official drouth area in southern Iowa, this campaign is trying to ensure a supply of meat in farm homes for the spring and summer months. This system is expected to reduce the number of cattle dependent on a limited amount of feed in Iowa.

All three extension nutrition specialists are working on this drive. Each farm family is being urged to can at least one cow.

In Benton county Miss Jennie Nelson is being employed as full-time demonstration agent after having served both Benton and Tama counties together. In Tama county, Mrs. Edith Moss Huffman, University of Nebraska graduate and former home demonstration agent in Webster county, Nebraska, will succeed Miss Nelson.