CLASSES OF '04, '13, '22, '31, '40, '49

WORK HAS BEGUN on the organization of an Iowa State College Veterinary Medical Alumni Association. Dr. H. D. Bergman, retired dean of the Division of Veterinary Medicine, who has long recognized the desirability of such an association, has taken the initial steps in this project. As Secretary pro tem of the proposed association, he sent letters to twenty-four local veterinary medical alumni of Iowa State College and requested that they select five individuals from the list who will serve as an organizational committee. Those selected were Dr. Charles Murray, dean emeritus, Division of Veterinary Medicine; Dr. Margaret Sloss, Department of Pathology; Dr. C. D. Lee, Veterinary Medical Extension Service; Dr. Maurice J. Johnson, Supervisor of Stange Memorial and Ambulatory Clinics and Dr. M. A. Emmerson, Head of the Department of Veterinary Obstetrics and Radiology.

Dr. Murray and Dr. Bergman were appointed by this committee to draw up a proposed constitution and by-laws for the association, subject to the approval of the committee. A temporary slate of officers will be selected to serve until the first business session of the association, which will be held at the time of the annual meeting in January, 1954, of the Iowa Veterinary Medical Association. The proposed constitution and by-laws will be published in the Fall issue of the Iowa State College Veterinarian along with a report of interest to the alumni on further developments of the association.

Because of the keen response from the featured classes of alumni, space did not permit us to include the addresses of all members as we did in the preceding issue.
